- SPOA or the single Point of Access is the Suffolk County Unit which assists families in obtaining care for children with mental health needs which require more than outpatient therapy alone. SPOA offers 9 different programs for children who are experiencing emotional/behavioral disturbance. Children's Supportive and Intensive Case Management Programs provide case management services for children with an Axis I, DSM IV Diagnoses. The Home Base Program or Coordinated Children's Services Initiative provides services such as case management, anger management and parent training for children at risk of placement outside the home. The Multi-Systemic Therapy Youth Team provides intensive in-home family therapy as well as medication management and case management for youth currently involved with the court system or at risk of court involvement. The HCBS waiver program provides a wrap-around comprehensive system of services for children at immediate risk of long-term psychiatric hospitalization. Two programs which provide placement outside the home include Family Based Treatment, which will match a child in need of placement with a specially trained family in the community, and Teaching Family Homes, which places children in an agency-run home with professional parents experienced in handling children with unique emotional and behavioral needs. Another type of out of home SPOA program is the Community Residence, which provides 24-hour awake supervision by professional staff in a home run by an agency. The Residential Treatment Facility program provides fully integrated mental health treatment and education services on campus. Eligibility for this highly structured out of home setting is determined by a Pre-Admission Certification Committee. Children whose needs cannot be met by a lower level of care in the community can be considered for this program. Parent consultants are available to provide support for parents whose children make use of SPOA programs.
